The Harbour Agency Presents..

After their recent sold out July tour "Sway Sway Baby Live" and their #2 ARIA Smash Hit, Short Stack are again hitting the road in December for their third national tour in support of the band's new Album Stack Is The New Black which is in stores/online August 14.

Short Stack (Shaun Diviney guitar / lead vocals, Andy Clemmensen Bass / Vocals and Bradie Webb Drums / Keyboards) is undoubtedly one of the hottest young bands in Australia right now. Proof enough from the band's recent Channel [V] Oz Artist of the Year win where they'd received 400,000 votes, along with their current single "Sway Sway Baby" this week becoming the highest debuting single on the ARIA Singles Chart this year entering at #2.

The teenaged three-piece from New South Wales' Central Coast has gone on to do what no other Australian music act has successfully achieved – used the combined powers of SMS, YouTube and Myspace to amass a following that's grown by the second; racking up over 4 million plays with over one million plays for their second single Princess alone, and on top of that, being Australia's biggest band on YouTube with over 2.5 million views of the Short Stack TV series and video clips.

In between HSC exams and gigs supporting the likes of The Veronicas, Simple Plan and Good Charlotte, work began on Stack Is The New Black with all their songs written by Shaun. "We never thought we had any good songs until we signed and people were like, 'These are actually quite good'," Shaun Says. "For us, more than anything the album is a timeline because we have songs on there that were written when we first started out then songs we wrote a week before the album was recorded. It's really cool to see how we've progressed as a band and how we've grown up."

Stack Is The New Black covers a range of styles – from epic ballads to fast and furious electro-tinged rock anthems. "It's got a song on there for everyone depending on what genre you like," Andy Says. "When you listen to the song albums, you can only listen halfway through before you get over hearing their voices or hearing the same sounds but I think with ours you can listen the whole way through because it changes up so much."
